

Lifeboats

Instructions for use of crossing times

Times are published in good faith but the decision to cross or not rests with the individual and not the RNLI.

A safety margin has been incorporated into these calculations however times may vary and conditions should be checked on the day of crossing.

The finish time for the crossing period is the time to be back on the mainland.
Allow time to cross back.